Another Brick In The Wall

This year, after careful consideration and debate of a wide variety of ideas presented by the Royal Blue Staff, we chose "Another Brick in the Wall" as our theme for the '88 ROYAL BLUE.

As a student progresses through the '87-'88 school year, each continues to build his own unique wall from the varied educational and social experiences presented to him. Actually this sturdy wall is a foundation for the future and continues to be built as long as the student is adding to his educational background. Walla Walla High School offers each student a large brick pile from which to choose.

A Wa-Hi student can build and broaden his or her own brick wall by doing anything from attending class to participating in an athletic activity or going to a social function. In the brick pile Walla Walla High School offers many classes from which to choose, in addition to dances, clubs, sports and other school sponsored activities.

In this year's annual we have attempted to recapture the experiences that have contributed to this year's part in the foundation and wall of every student. We chose those bricks which we think will stand out as a part of 1987-1988 in everyone's memory. We hope that each of you find your bricks in this '88 Royal Blue.

The '88 Royal Blue Staff was the largest in ten years with 22 seniors and 6 underclassmen. Only six of the seniors were returning staff members. After weeks of debating different ideas, we finally chose "another brick in the wall" as our theme for the '88 Royal Blue.

The staff consisted of three editors: Susan Clark, Hans Haimberger, and Kim Harstad. Having three editors made things a lot easier. Each editor was in charge of a specific section: Susan, student life and organizations; Hans, sports; and Kim, seniors and underclassmen. Having a large staff enabled us to meet our deadlines and come up with great ideas to make this year's book the best.

As you already noticed, this year's cover is red. After careful consideration and debating of how students would feel about a 'non-blue' cover, we chose it, thinking it would make it more unique. I mean, "Hey? Have you ever seen blue bricks?" We hope you enjoy this great book.

Life

Homecoming

Homecoming this year centered around the theme, "Spirit International." The week was highlighted by various dress-up days and evening activities which included the powder puff football game, the serpentine and bonfire, the football game, and the Homecoming Dance.

Each day of the week was devoted to a country and students dressed in the attire of the country or the colors of the flag of the country. Italy, Japan, and Arabia were the countries selected.

Noontime activities for the week included on Monday, a spaghetti slurp contest; Wednesday, a grape eating contest; Thursday, a 'silly Olympics;' and Friday, a rootbeer chug. Contests all involved class competition.

For the first time in many years powder puff football was revived and the senior and junior girls tangled at Borleske on Wednesday evening under the lights. Mr. Scott Tibbling organized the event to benefit the baseball program and the cheerleader budget. Under the coaching of Mr. Ron Higgins and Mr. Ron Huntington, the junior girls were successful forcing Mr. Tibbling to live up to his challenge that he would shave his moustache if the seniors lost. Aided by his faithful assistant coach, Mr. Lee Jackson, Mr. Tibbling shaved the facial hair at the Pep Assembly on Friday.

On Thursday evening the cheerleaders organized the serpentine which formed at Tietan Park and concluded at the Wa-Hi Gym where the volleyball team battled the Kamiakin Braves. Boys' Fed sponsored the bonfire after the game.

The traditional Pep Assembly and the announcement of the Homecoming Court took place on Blue and White Day, Friday. The Moses Lake Chiefs were defeated on Friday night by the Blue Devils to culminate a successful week.

The Homecoming Dance sponsored by the ASB Cabinet was held on Saturday evening in the Wa-Hi Gym. In an atmosphere of black and white, students danced to the music of "The Machine." Refreshments included meats and cheeses from ten different countries.

Foreign Exchange Students

Peter Howe

Peter Howe, a senior from England, was hosted by the Lawrence Mulkerin family. Peter opened students' eyes to the similarities as well as to the diversities between his own culture and theirs. Peter displayed his dancing ability at several frolics, assemblies and in the school musical "Bye Bye Birdie." Peter was a visitor in the Study Associates International program (SAI).

Hideki Seto and Yuko Maeda

This was Yuko Maeda's second year at Wa-Hi. Due to a special arrangement with the district, Yuko was allowed to graduate with the Class of '88. This year she was hosted by the April's privately.

Hideki Seto, a junior from Japan, was hosted by the Ed George's. Hideki enjoyed being involved in the band program at Wa-Hi. He was at Wa-Hi as a member of the Sister City Exchange Program.

Gerardo Prieto, a junior from Spain, was hosted by the Robert Pulfer's through the Iberoamerican Cultural Exchange Program (ICEP).

Lara Alvarez-Tostado was a senior visiting from Mexico. She was hosted privately by the Dan Donovan's.

Kristian Lundh, a senior from Sweden, was hosted by the Doug Martin's. Cross country and golf were two of his primary interests during the year. Kristian was here under the ASSE (American-Scandinavian Student Exchange) program.

Peter Bredin, a senior from Sweden, was hosted by the Michael Lasher family in the EFFF Program. Peter took an interest in photography while at Wa-Hi in addition to a busy schedule.

Ricardo Heradia was a junior who visited from Spain in the AYYE (American Academic Youth Exchange) program. He was hosted by the Rick Small's.

Henk Hinrichs, who is being hosted by the Roger Wilson family, is a junior from northern West Germany. He believes that "Americans should listen to better music, lower the drinking age, and eat better food!" Henk visited under the Educational Foundation for Foreign Study (EFFF).

Christina Schmitt, a senior from West Germany, was hosted privately by Wa-Hi foreign language teacher, Cliff Olds and family.

Walter Willemstein, a junior from Holland, was hosted by the Don Peterson family. Fellow students recognized him as an excellent pianist. Walter was also a visitor as a member of the EFFF.

With the addition of a second Apple Macintosh 512K computer and a group of seven page editors, the Wa-HI Journal succeeded in recording the year's news on the Wa-HI campus.

Lance Longmire, Squire Broel and Todd Sams each shared editorial responsibility with the news, feature, and sports segments. Printing of the paper was done by the Walla Walla Union Bulletin. Cara Ely, Megan Hines, Heather Herion, and Maria Matier shared page responsibilities for the year.

In addition to putting out a bi-weekly paper, the Journal Staff also co-sponsored the publications frolic, and attended the Idaho Journalism Education Association convention in Sun Valley, Idaho, in the fall where Squire Broel received an "excellent" rating in the editorial cartooning division.

This year's photo site was at the corner of 7th and Main, in accordance with the Annual's theme "Another Brick in the Wall."

Rock 'n' Roll erupted in the Gym as the Wavo Studd Puppies synched their way to victory in the fourth annual Air Jam held November 10 by the Boys' Federation.

The Wavo Studd Puppies returned from last year's second place debut with a few new members. This band includes Matt Mulkerin, John Hoxsey, Chris Meier, Sherron Stonecypher, Mike Sparkes, and Squire Broel.

Motley Madness, consisting of Linda Oakley, Becky Cranor, Susan Clark, and Jeff Patterson, rocked their way to second place. "We thought we jammed pretty good by the way the audience responded," exclaimed Susan Clark and Linda Oakley.

Rounding off the winners were Heather Herion, Cara Ely, Sarah Sameh, Joy Knowles, and Janifer Harvey from the Native Daughters of the Socially Repressed.

Over 600 people were in attendance this year. Due to this year's abundance of enthusiasm, the production was moved to the gym, rather than the Commons as usual.

This year's sponsors were Coca-Cola, Domino's Pizza, Jefferson Park Cinema's, State Farm Insurance, Tom's Video, 7-11, Wendy's, and 3 Bears Yogurt.

'Bye Bye Birdie'

On November 18-21, thirty Wa-Hi students participated in this year's musical, "Bye Bye Birdie." In preparation for this play the students put in a great deal of effort and time. Over sixty people auditioned for the play, but the cast was narrowed down to thirty. The 'Birdie' orchestra also was composed of over twenty people, who provided the music to which the cast sang and danced.

The cast met everyday after school for 2 hours and met at night for 2 to 3 additional hours of dance. The director again this year was Jim Michelson, from Whitman College. Ida Lee Hutson-Fish choreographed the cast's dance scenes. Paul Dennis and Glen Mitchell directed the cast in the musical aspects of the play.

The cast and crew of "Bye Bye Birdie" did an excellent job. Their hard work and determination paid off. Tickets sold out on two nights. On Friday and Saturday, 25 extra chairs were added to accommodate the people who wanted to see the play.

Counseling, Curriculum, Registration

This year at Walla Walla High School, three counselors and one administrator are fulfilling the counseling duties. The department is one part of the total high school staff that operates on a basis of helping turn out graduates who are ready to take their place in an adult society as self-sufficient members and able to give direction to their own lives.

Each student is assigned a counselor by grade level. It is Wa-Hi's policy to have each counselor keep the same group of students throughout their high school years.

The counselor's role is

- to help students reach their educational, vocational, and personal goals.
- to help students understand themselves, their abilities, and their limitations.

Below: A student receives help from Mrs. Kay Jamison, counseling secretary.

— to help students realistically take a look at themselves.

— to help students make logical decisions about their future.

The physical structure of the counseling department has undergone exciting renovation. Larger offices with more privacy and new traffic flow offer better access of services to students. Centrally located on the campus is the new career planning center which is open daily to all students.

The curriculum offerings at Walla Walla High School are many and varied. Students are given the opportunity to develop skills, which can either lead to employment directly after high school or a continuation of their study in a post high school educational institution. In other words when a student graduates from Wa-Hi he/she should be able to go to work or have the skills necessary to continue his education beyond high school. The Wa-Hi graduate should know the meaning of and have skills in decision making, problem solving, interpersonal relationships, communications, physical and mental health and the basic academic areas.

Students are helped by parents, teachers and counselors in planning their educational program for Wa-Hi and beyond. This process begins in the eighth grade. Students are helped to plan and build a schedule according to their needs, interests, and abilities. Students are informed about course offerings and registration details in small group sessions followed by individual appointments with a counselor. During the one-on-one counseling sessions, career goals, college planning and personal needs are addressed as well as making specific course selections. The student's course selections are then entered into the computer and the computer actually creates the student's schedule.

Mr. Ron Huntington assists Eric Baker with a science problem.

The Mathematics-Science Department was organized in 1972. Since that time, almost 50% of the student body has enrolled in mathematics classes and science classes each year. Some individuals have taken these classes to satisfy graduation requirements, but most students take classes in this department to pursue special interests in mathematics and/or science. Math/science courses provide the high school student with lifetime skills and many of the courses prepare the individual for further study in vocational schools and/or the college level. Wa-Hi also offers two levels of computer courses.

The department offers two years of algebra, a year of geometry, two years of basic mathematics, a semester for both trigonometry and analytic geometry, and a year of calculus which can be used for AP. Courses in science include full year courses in physics, chemistry, biology, physiology, zoology, and two years of general science. The department also offers one semester courses in geology, air and space, and electronics.

It is possible for a student to complete five years of mathematics by the end of his or her senior year at WaHi. While the department encourages a broad background in science, it is possible for a student to take two years of biological and/or physical science.

The basic mathematics courses and the general science courses are intended for students who have not realized a great deal of success in science and/or mathematics prior to these high school programs. Some of these students are so successful that they are encouraged to enroll in other mathematics and/or science courses.

Above: Students in one of Mr. Sievertsen's classes pay close attention as he lectures. Some days it's just harder to concentrate than others.

The English program at Wa-Hi is designed to meet the needs and ability level of every student. All students are required to take one of three levels of Sophomore English, which involves skills in grammar, composition, and literature. Additional classes are selected from several areas depending on the students' interest and ability. These areas include composition courses, such as Grammar and Composition, Creative Writing, and Vocabulary and Composition; reading classes, like basic or Advanced Reading; and literature selections, ranging from Science Fiction or Greek Mythology to American or English Literature. Special interest courses include classes in Speech, Drama, Communication, and Journalism.

State and local requirements, along with the personal commitment of each of Wa-Hi's Social Studies staff, have directed the department to:

Teach those skills, knowledges, attitudes, and values that are a part of our common culture, especially those which perpetuate and extend freedom and democracy within our society.

Provide opportunities for Wa-Hi students to become informed, thinking, self-directed persons capable of being participants in both domestic and world affairs.

Help the students learn how to assess issues, make thoughtful decisions and develop the ability to deal with change.

The Wa-Hi Social Studies department currently has seven teachers on its staff. In addition to the required full year of United States History, students must also complete one semester of American Government (Civics). In order to offer Wa-Hi's students a variety of options in courses of study, several elective classes are available. These include: Geography and World Affairs, Current Affairs, Introduction to Human Behavior, Current World Problems, Western Civilization, Sociology, Psychology, and N.W. History (for students entering Wa-Hi from out of state).

The Wa-Hi Art department is structured to provide many curriculum choices for the students.

Calligraphy is open to all students and several styles of lettering are done in the classes. The General Art Class is fundamental and includes areas of drawing, painting, printmaking and basic design.

Advanced Art affords the students the opportunity to explore a variety of media and techniques from an individual approach.

Pottery emphasizes the forming of functional ware on the potter's wheel.

Top: Senior Squire Broel figures out one of the problems he was having with one of his many drawings.

Middle: Three sophomores work industriously on their art projects.

Art, Foreign Language

The Foreign Language department offers the student a choice of Spanish, German or French, enabling the individual to compare other cultures with his own. Students learn to stand aside and look at themselves as people of other cultures and societies do.

Students not only learn to listen and understand, but also to speak, read and write a foreign language. Advanced level classes are offered in all these languages.

Learning a foreign language offers the student a unique opportunity to learn something unlike any other course in the curriculum. A foreign language actually compliments almost all other areas of study.

Traffic Safety Education at Wa-Hi is one of the most important classes students will be taking. The main objective is to prepare each student to become a responsible member of the highway transportation system.

The semester course is designed for success to all students who wish to drive in the state of Washington. The program consists of three phases of instruction: classroom, simulation, and in-car instruction, taught by a certified staff member.

TSE first began at Wa-Hi in 1946 with a total of 47 students. The program now provides instruction to more than 425 students each year. Nearly 100% of the students at Wa-Hi will be taking this course because of the need to have a driver's license prior to one's eighteenth birthday.

The Wa-Hi Traffic Safety Education Program has been recognized as one of the finest programs in the nation.

Top: The TSE class watches a slide show that will help them prepare for a test.

Middle: Mr. Jim Smith's PE class plays tennis.

Bottom: John Sirmon lifts while Troy Beckel watches in Weight Training.

Physical Education at Walla Walla High School is a broad-based curriculum offering a wide variety of co-ed activities.

There are four classes from which students may choose: H.S.P.E., advanced PE, weight training and aerobics, and weight training and conditioning. Advanced PE includes such off campus activities as bowling, racquetball, and ice skating.

During the fall and spring students participate in soccer, speedball, softball, tennis, aerial football, field hockey and golf. When winter weather rolls around students may be found indoors playing badminton, pickleball, volleyball, basketball, fleeceball, or floor hockey.

The PE program provides the students with an understanding of healthful living styles and provides them with a broad base of activities they may choose to pursue later on in life.

All students are given the A.A.-P.E.R.D., a health related fitness test, at least twice a year.

The automotive industry has changed rapidly in recent years, and the Wa-Hi Auto Mechanics Program is responsive to those technological changes. Obtaining good work habits, skills in using tools, and obtaining competency in auto mechanics is a goal of many students. As Wa-Hi students work on cars and engines, they practice safety procedures and learn auto mechanics. The Auto Mechanics Program teaches responsibility, and students take pride in their work.

Jason Post thoroughly inspects his Nissan.

Auto Mechanics Vocational Ag

The Vocational Agriculture Program and FFA Program at Wa-Hi give the students a practical "hands on" approach to education. Wa-Hi has one of the best facilities in the state. Students learn skills that last a lifetime. The object of the Vo-Ag classes is not only to teach theory but also to give the students a chance to actually do and practice what they have learned.

Some of the skills acquired in the Agriculture classes are arc and gas welding, electrical wiring, plumbing, carpentry, concrete work, masonry, animal science, soils, crops, and small engine repair, to name a few. Within the Vocational Agriculture Program are some special interest classes: Forestry - forest management, wild life management; Horticulture - land scaping, flower arranging, bedding plants, plus actually growing plants in the green house; Agri-business - skills such as resume writing, personal portfolios, plus actual work on a job site are included.

Industrial Education Technology is open to all Wa-Hi students. Woods and Drafting Technology offer each student the opportunity to develop his creative abilities, earn prevocation experience or prepare for college.

Woods Technology lets the students design and build their own projects, learning basic hand and machine tool processes, work on production projects to help update the lab equipment, and develop an appreciation for quality workmanship.

Drafting technology lets students learn basic drafting skills, then go on to architectural design and/or engineering drafting. The higher level classes allow the students to create and build projects that may be a breakthrough in current technology.

Home & Family Life, Industrial Arts

Home and Family Life courses offer opportunity to develop skills that are needed for living in today's society. Included in the curriculum are courses to prepare students for living on their own as well as in the family environment. Decision making skills are emphasized. Students' awareness of the changing society in which they live increases as the six major areas of study are explored: relationships, consumer education, living environments, child development, clothing, and foods. Future Homemakers of America provides experiences in developing leadership skills through classroom and chapter activities.

Business skills are very important in securing a good clerical position in today's job market. Clerical occupations are experiencing rapid growth and a shortage of trained workers will carry into the 90's. Entry level employment is a reality to many high school students who have sufficient skills in typing, shorthand, accounting, and other office machines. Classes in Business Law and Word Processing further equip students to enter the work force. Many jobs in the business area do not require a college education, but DO REQUIRE a business skill. Cooperative Office Education, a senior work/study program, also helps students prepare to enter into the business world.

Legislative Assembly

The Legislative Assembly was responsible for many changes which occurred at Wa-Hi this year.

Homerrooms elected a representative during each semester. Several L.A. Representatives formed the new Assembly Committee which helped organize assemblies throughout the year.

The Constitution-Review Committee made several changes in the Wa-Hi constitution in order to update it.

Legislative Assembly also discussed other alternatives to having the smoking area in the gym parking lot; litter problems; and giving varsity letters to the ROTC, other clubs, and the appointed positions on the ASB Cabinet.

The ASB Cabinet, consisting of approximately thirty students, had many responsibilities throughout the year. They met in the summer to prepare for the up coming year by expressing goals each member had.

The first project tackled by cabinet was orientation for new students. They also helped the administration on registration day to make it run smoothly.

Homecoming was next on the agenda, and the cabinet members decided to have a week theme "Spirit International" separate from the dance theme "Love makes the world go 'round." The cabinet members spent quite awhile decorating the gym to make it look so elegant.

Other things members were aware of, student involvement, school pride, and making it an all around memorable year. It accomplished the final task, Spring Formal, with ease.

The cabinet is the strength behind the officers. They worked hard at setting jobs done on time, while keeping up with their other commitments.

ASB OFFICERS

After their election last spring, the 1987-'88 ASB Officers appointed a cabinet from submitted applications. During the summer the officers spent a week at Mt. Adams Leadership Camp. This activity brought the officers closer together and introduced them to other leaders around the state. Besides building lasting friendships, they were taught new techniques on becoming strong leaders.

The officers had many goals they wanted to accomplish. One major goal was reached in the summer when they switched the ASB accounts to the computer to make it easier to view the financial situation. Also, trying to keep the student body dry, they initiated the installation of rain gutters. Pride in Wa-Hi and its campus was given a boost this year, too. The last goal expressed by each officer was getting the students involved. When asked about this Chris Meier replied, "We can only hope we got everyone involved who wanted to be involved."

Squire Broel
ASB Vice-President

"This year was great; I've had a lot of good times, and a few criticisms. I've filed them all away."

Christian Fletcher
ASB Secretary

"1987-'88 has been a great learning experience for me and a lot of fun as well."

Joy Knowles
ASB Treasurer

"Looking back on this, my senior year, I must say it's been a very 'joy'ful year, even though the booking occasionally came out one penny off. The job of treasurer was interesting and busy."

ASB OFFICERS — FRONT: Joy Knowles, treasurer. ROW 2: Christian Fletcher, secretary; Squire Broel, vice-president; Chris Meier, president.

BOYS' FED

BOYS' FED OFFICERS: John Hoxsey, Matt Mulkerin, John Wilson, Lance Longmire.

Boys' Fed launched the great '87-'88 school year with many exciting competitions and productions. These events were the Air Jam, Bon Fire, lunchtime competitions against Girls' League and other such fun-filled activities.

Boys' Fed's first project was sponsoring the first frolic of the year. The frolic was a success, with approximately 400 people attending.

Many noontime games against Girls' League were also started, "although we didn't win all the time" said Boys' Fed officer John Hoxey.

The Bon Fire during Homecoming week was also put on under the supervision of Boys' Fed. This included getting wood to burn and putting on music for other students to dance to.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Girls' League '87-'88 held activities ranging from the Welcoming Frolic, "Wipe Out," to the Father-Daughter Banquet. The Girls' League Cabinet started off the year by whopping Boys' Fed in an intense volleyball match, and later that same day sponsored the frolic. The representatives from the homerooms organized the pumpkin decorating contest. Getting fathers and daughters together, the annual Father/Daughter banquet was held in early December. Having bake sales, among numerous other fund raisers, Girls' League was able to put on the Sadie Hawkins dance in the Spring. The Mother-Daughter Banquet drew to a close Girls' League Cabinet's memorable year.

Girls' League Officers: Lisa Pinza, secretary; Jennifer Anderson, president; Jennifer Gillespie, vice-president; Sandra Hobkirk, treasurer.

CREST

Crest is an all girls' service club for seniors. A 3.0 GPA and a background in service activities is required. Crest volunteered services to community groups, nursing homes, and the Salvation Army, as well as participating in activities around Wa-Hi such as career night, graduation, and "Celebrate an Evening with the Arts."

The Tall Flag Team this year consisted of 18 sophomores, juniors and seniors. This very spirited group of girls practiced almost all summer from 7-9 a.m. to prepare for camp. It was held at the University of Idaho for three days.

After camp the girls had a week off before they started practicing for the Southeastern Washington Fair. At the fair the team performed for three nights with the band.

After school practices then began from 3:30-5 p.m. The team performed at all home football games, the homecoming pep assembly, and some basketball games.

The captains, Megan Hines and Shelly Gregerson, did an excellent job making up original routines that the team performed all year.

The Future Farmers of America is a good organization to be a part of. There are about 500,000 members in the United States and Puerto Rico.

FFA is not just learning about agriculture; it's having a good time learning and doing the skills of agriculture, such as welding, tractor driving, mechanics, and livestock handling and sales, just to name a few of the thousands of agricultural related jobs. Most county fairs hold FFA contests in which these skills are judged.

The FFA officers include: Lester Lital, president; Chad Bughi, vice-President; Jarrod Arbini, treasurer; Greg Nordheim, secretary; Julie Nordheim, reporter; and Jeff Feilds, who is the sentinel of Wa-Hi's FFA chapter.

Every year the national chapter of FFA holds a national convention in Kansas City, MO. Members attending from Wa-Hi this year include: advisor Mr. Clark, Lester Lital, Julie Nordheim, and Merritt Holloway.

The National Honor Society is an organization to recognize those students who have excelled academically and have demonstrated leadership, community and school involvement, and high moral standards. Initiation ceremonies are held in the spring of each year to honor the students who have demonstrated these characteristics. Mrs. Myrna Anderson is the faculty advisor for the National Honor Society.

COE

Cooperative Office Education (C.O.E.) met as a class during zero period to learn more about acceptable business activities and practices. The class is a work/study program which allows the students time to work in the afternoons to learn first-hand the advantages and responsibilities of working in an office. The students learn proper job search skills, promotional opportunities in business, business ethics, review clerical skills, and generally study business concepts and practices. The class, which is open to seniors only, is aimed at helping students prepare for their chosen occupation. The on-the-job training becomes an integral part of the student's learning. This training helps the students to gain understanding of what employers expect and to gain insight into employer expectations in the world of work. In essence, this class assists students to make a smooth transition from the classroom principles and learning concepts to actual application of those skills in their chosen career areas. The school and business community are partners with a common goal: Helping students prepare for and start their careers in business.

FBLA

Future Business Leaders of America is a national organization for high school and college students interested in a business career. In addition to school events, workshops, and conferences, organizational goals include promoting competent aggressive business leadership, understanding American business enterprise, establishing career goals, encouraging scholarship, promoting sound financial management, developing character and self-confidence, and facilitating the transition from school to work.

JSA

The Walla Walla JSA Chapter held weekly meetings on campus at which there were debates, thought talks, speakers, and other activities. Members gained confidence in public speaking by participating in the fall and spring Pacific Northwest Conferences in Seattle and the one day Eastside conferences in Spokane.

JSA's success this year was largely due to its leadership. Under the supervision of advisor Mr. Richard Shropshire, the club was run by Kris Meyle, president; Chris Meier, vice-president; Siobhan Cahill, secretary/treasurer; Christian Fletcher, director of chapter affairs; and the ideas and suggestions from all of the members of the club.

Tri-Sigma is an academic interest/service club. The members have a science and math focus but do many other things like providing music at lunch time and for special occasions such as frolics and the senior breakfast. As a service club, the members donated equipment to the Wa-Hi science department. Meetings were held at lunch time; the group had fun as they learned new things.

CHAMBER SINGERS

This school year proved to be a busy but fulfilling year for the Chamber Singers under the direction of Mr. Paul Dennis. In November the Fall Concert kicked off the eventful year. December found the group singing in many off campus performances for various community organizations. An "Evening with the Arts" gave them the chance to be in the public view once again. During February the group traveled to Olympia to participate in the Southwestern Washington Choral Contest. In March they joined the choir and band for the spring tour, traveling to the coast area for three days of performances. The annual Spring Concert brought the year to a successful close.

ROTC

COLOR GUARD: M. Walmsley, M. Morris, B. Race, S. Thrall, J. O'Kert.

Always leading the way, the Color Guard is responsible for carrying the National, State, and school colors for various events. They are called upon some 50 times a year to open civic, school, and veterans activities. They provide the colors before each football and basketball game and lead the marches in all the parades.

RIFLE TEAM — FRONT ROW: A. Talor, B. Banks, J. Edson, D. Summers, B. Coffey, S. Aylward. ROW 2: J. Brower, J. Heird, D. Dodd, V. Zendejas, D. Glos, G. Larsen.

The Rifle Team always has been an integral part of the JROTC program. From the 1920's when it won collegiate and Western region championships to the present, the Rifle Team has established a proud, winning tradition. Currently, the Rifle Team competes in National Rifle Association and 4th Region ROTC matches throughout the Northwest against other JROTC and NRA teams, and is a member of the Puget Sound Drill and Rifle Conference.

The Pistol Team is a relative newcomer to the competitive scene for the JROTC program; however, it has quickly established itself as a winner. For the past two years, the Pistol Team has won the 4th ROTC Region Championship which covers 13 western states, Alaska, Hawaii, American Samos, and Guam.

Time Goes By

The annual Walla Walla High School JROTC Military Ball themed, "Time Goes By," rocked the Commons, December 5. Joe Kirshner and Sharron Bryarly were crowned King and Queen with Topher Murphy and Kris Meyle as Prince and Princess.

The evening began with a regulation receiving line in which guests were formally introduced to the students and faculty staff of the JROTC program.

During the coronation ceremony, the royalty was lead through the Saber Guard by Gary Spencer, and the Mistress of Ceremonies was Cherie Gleason.

The music was provided by OK 95's Dancerama and the food was catered by Larry Hoy.

Sharron Bryarly and her first period staff arranged the decorating.

VICA

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) is a youth leadership program at Walla Walla High School that is designed to assist automotive trade and industry students to prepare for vocational technical careers in the automobile industry. It is a leadership, citizenship and character development program that compliments Wa-Hi's vocational skill training program. It helps students to prepare themselves for the labor market. VICA emphasizes respect for the dignity of work, high standards in trade ethics, workmanship, scholarship and safety. It promotes understanding of the free enterprise system.

Treble Chorus

The Treble Chorus, while small this year, showed a great deal of initiative and hard work. They were able to perform in the Fall Concert along with the Mixed Choir and The Chamber Singers. During the holiday time they performed at the Eastgate Mall and at the Holiday Concert in Cordiner Hall. They performed in the All-City Vocal Festival with all the other vocal groups in the city under the direction of Dr. Robert Bode from Whitman College. And, they finished the year off by performing in the spring concert in May.

"An Evening with the Arts" was presented on Friday, December 11 at 6 p.m. in the Commons by Wa-Hi's students of the arts to raise money for the Pantry Shelf, a local food bank. Although the event collected no profit this year, the evening's performances proceeded successfully and plans are already underway for the next year.

The dimly lit Commons was filled with around 49 tables, covered with table cloths, made by the Home and Family Life department, and centerpieces. Kiosks hosted photography, paintings, and drawings, and tables displayed pottery and sculpture.

Pep Band

Majorettes

Wa-Hi Majorettes for 1987-1988 were Amy Austill and Jamie Lambert. The Majorettes marched with the band at all "Home" football games and parades. In addition they performed at Washington State University as part of the Band Day.

Straight from their regular opening act for Billy and the Boingers, the ferocious, fresh, frantic, popular, pulsating, psychedelic Wa-Hi Pep Band intruded its way into the hearts and souls of the many different and the many thousands of pep band fans. Directed by B.J. "lightning" Bright and Anthony "terrible Tony" Taylor the band played many familiar tunes. They all had an uncontrollable urge to please the crowd and promote spirit at Wa-Hi. This urge and their success gave them the pleasure of being awarded best Pep Band in Southern Walla Walla.

Key Club and Ski Club

The Wa-Hi Key Club had a very successful year for 1987-88. Key Club, which is a service club sponsored by Kiwanis businessmen throughout Walla Walla, participated in many projects to help people throughout the community. Some of the projects included a "Big Brother/Big Sister" program, handing out valentines made by Key Club members to the elderly, and sponsoring a December 18, frolic. Key Club also sponsored two different families for the holidays, one for Thanksgiving and one for Christmas. The officers for Key Club were Jono Grant, president; Kristi Jaquins, vice president; Amy Austill, secretary; and Shannell Clark, treasurer. Mr. Higgins served as the Key Club Advisor.

Wa-Hi Ski Club is a fun loving group of young people who get together to enjoy winter fun in the snow. It is a very select group open to only males or females that attend Walla Walla High School. They try to ski some remote mountain peak every Saturday from January thru March. The "big" ski trip this year was to Salt Lake City. They skied Snowbird, ALTA, and Park City. These three parks boast some of the finest powder snow skiing in the world. If you didn't join us this year for a great ski trip, eat your heart out.

Language Clubs

French Club this year is creating a design for a club sweatshirt. They visited the Odd Fellows Home over the holidays to provide some company for the people who live there. They are also planning a dinner for an underprivileged family on Mardi Gras. Their other plans include the possibility of some fund raising including a crepe sale. The French club plans to end the year with a French banquet. This year's officers were President Cliff Preston, Vice-President Amy Stanton, Secretary Heather Johnson, Treasurer Patty Fulton.

The International Spanish Club of Wa-Hi kept busy this year with various school and community related activities. President Wendy Linn, vice president Amy Austill, secretary Greg Nordheim, and treasurer Kristi Jacquins, under the supervision of Mr. Jesse Briones, helped in planning most of the activities. During the holiday season, Spanish Club sponsored a food drive that proved very successful.

Knowledge Bowl Academic Decathlon

The Wa-Hi Knowledge Bowl Teams have participated in three meets, one of which was co-hosted by Walla Walla and Pomeroy at Walla Walla.

The veterans, Brian Drishell, Christian Fletcher, David Muzzall and David Schreindl, provide valuable experience and leadership to this predominately novice group.

The teams have one more competition at Pomeroy before the March 12 Regional Final hosted by Walla Walla.

The Academic Decathlon Team, consisting of Honors: Christian Fletcher and Randy Hopkins; Scholastic: David Schreindl and Philomena Shivell; and the Varsity: Emily Hanson and Sarah Grant, worked against tremendous odds to compete at Regionals at Wenatchee. Christian Fletcher took a third place award in Mathematics and Emily Hanson won two thirds, one in Fine Arts and the other Language and Literature. The team won First Alternate at the state competition, February 26 & 27 in Seattle.

Right - Academic Decathlon: Emily Hanson, Randy Hopkins, David Schreindl, Mrs. Bosley, Phil Shivell, Christian Fletcher.

FHA, Youth and Government

Future Homemakers of America provides opportunities for students to use decision-making skills as they develop leadership abilities. Each Home and Family Life class organizes itself and selects a topic or concern of special interest. The class then works together to achieve their own goal. The F.H.A. Chapter is made up of those students who may not be in a Home and Family Life class but are interested in F.H.A. activities. The chapter also develops leadership skills and participates in community service on the local, regional and state levels. Chapter officers are President: Elsie Nelson, Vice President: Rhonda Brown, and Secretary: Kathy Ryals.

Once again the Wa-Hi Chapter of the YMCA Youth and Government was alive and active this year. Throughout the fall and winter of 1987, these politically vibrant members prepared for their mock prelegislature meeting in February. Each member prepared and sponsored a bill having to do with a number of topics. In late April, the group traveled to Olympia, the state capitol, to attend the Washington State YMCA Mock Legislature. There, they were given the opportunity to debate the bills in the real Senate and House chambers of the Capitol Building. Other members took part in the judiciary program there, while some worked for the Youth and Government newspaper, "Capitol Capers." The groups advisor, Mr. Jim Tomlin, and club members agree that the experience was well worth the work it required beforehand.

Board Of Education

On the following pages, the Royal Blue Staff this year is featuring staff members who are the newest additions to Wa-Hi, newest in that they have joined the faculty within the last three years. These people represent recent college graduates, first year teachers from Washington and Montana; transfers to Wa-Hi from within the Walla Walla School District; and teachers who have joined the faculty after pursuing another career or vocation in the community. Share their expectations upon joining the staff, find out their interests, and relive their most embarrassing moments.

Colonel Gary Banks graduated from WSU in February 1962 with a degree in Physical Education and Secondary Education. He received his Masters Degree in Resource Management from Pepperdine University and has most of his credits for an Associate Degree from WWCC in Agriculture Production. He came to Wa-Hi in August 1985 to take command of Wa-Hi's JROTC program.

Colonel Banks expects to be able to prepare students in some small way for the time when they must leave the controlled environment of high school and make their way as adults in a highly competitive society.

He recalls, "After a career in the military service, I was not well prepared for the different dress standards of the students; particularly, the hair cuts. One morning a student came to my office for information. I said, 'Can I help you ma'm,' and the student replied, 'I am not a ma'm, I am a he.' I am not sure who was the most embarrassed, but I did learn to look more closely at to whom I was talking."

His interests include recreational sports such as racquetball, squash, and running; watching sports on TV; and horses, livestock, and rodeos.

Mrs. Shelly Froese is a 1975 Wa-Hi graduate who attended Eastern Washington University, graduated in 1979, earned her first B.A. in 1977 and her second in 1979, and began teaching at Sharpstein Elementary that fall. She earned her M. Ed. in 1982 and four years after that moved to Wa-Hi, the fall of '86.

She admits that she kind of expected Wa-Hi students to act like her former elementary school pupils, but hastens to add that she was pleasantly surprised when she was proved wrong. However, students who have no regard for school and other private property, who blame others, and who will not accept responsibility for their actions, all aggravate Mrs. Froese.

When she gets bored, she likes to express herself artistically through knitting and sewing. She especially likes to knit original design sweaters and sews her own family's clothes. However, her teaching job at WWCC (psychology) and working on her counseling certification at WWC seem to take up most of her time. In addition, adds Mrs. Froese, "I love to talk," and she enjoys visiting with friends.

Keith Gradwohl graduated from Wa-Hi in 1974. He began teaching at Pioneer Junior High, began coaching at Wa-Hi in 1982, came to Wa-Hi as an aide in 1985, but didn't begin teaching here until 1986. "I was both pleased and proud to finally become a member of the Wa-Hi staff," says Gradwohl.

His main interests are sports, "I especially like baseball and softball. In my spare time I like to officiate at baseball, softball, and basketball games. His hobby is, believe it or not, collecting baseball cards.

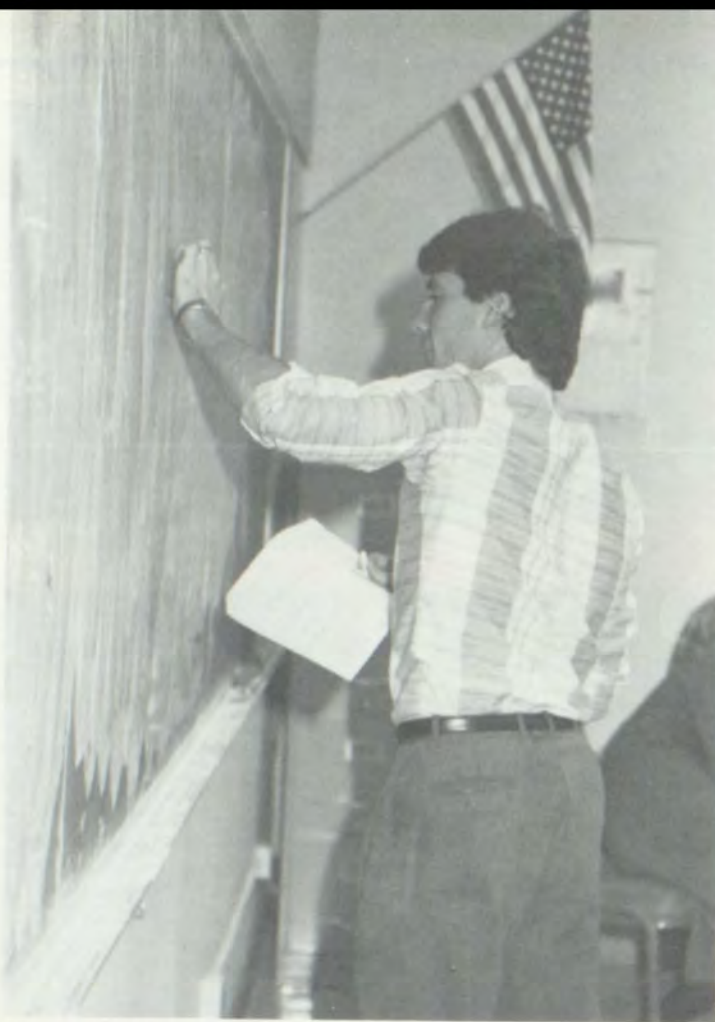

Wa-Hi's TSE instructor is aggravated by students who say, "I can't," instead of "I'll try," and who won't give it their best shot. However, he says he has a great deal of respect for students who put forth their best efforts a majority of the time.

Ron Higgins graduated from Flaxville High School in Flaxville, Montana in 1981 and attended Carroll College in Helena, Montana. Upon graduation in 1985 he accepted his first teaching assignment at Wa-Hi for the fall of '85.

Ron recalls his first year of teaching as a year when all he wanted to do was simply make it to the next day and each and every day after that.

In his spare time, the Wa-Hi math teacher enjoys an occasional game of racquetball, a little hoop, a day on the slopes or reading a good book. In the spring and summer golf and tennis are high on his priority list, when he isn't taking classes at WSU to complete his fifth year and masters degree.

Getting "burned" in the sleeping bag race at the first basketball pep rally stands out in his mind as one of his most embarrassing moments. "I was stuck wearing a shirt as a pair of pants," he recalls.

Students who fail to see the advantage of learning a variety of things and taking a variety of classes at WA-Hi irritate the Wa-Hi mathematics and computer teacher.

In her spare time she likes to go to her mountain cabin and enjoys the outdoors. Gardening, photography, travel, and other languages and cultures are also among her interests.

Marcia Pederson graduated from Central Washington University in Ellensburg, Washington on June 13, 1987 and began her teaching career at Wa-Hi in August. She says that her anxieties as a struggling first year teacher have been alleviated by a helpful Wa-Hi staff who has made "life here wonderful."

All kinds of sports, especially volleyball, softball, and snowskiing are Marcia's interests along with watching TV and travelling all over the world. However during her first year of teaching, she says just having time to relax is enjoyment.

Students who don't work to their potential and are capable of much more than they realize is Miss Pederson's main aggravation with students. Her most embarrassing moment, being asked, "Are you a junior or a senior?"

Mr. Frank Nemec joined the Wa-Hi staff in the Traffic Safety Education department in November, 1987, replacing Mr. Lee Jackson, who moved to a teaching position in the Spokane area.

Mr. Nemec recalls his most embarrassing moment as the day Mr. Wellington emobilized his vehicle for parking in his parking space.

Working with students to help them complete the Traffic Safety Program in a safe and skillful manner is his goal. He adds, this is something they will use forever.

When not out driving with students or working in the classroom, we can find the T.S.E. instructor in the garden, fishing, or just spending time in the mountains.

Mary Lynn Schroeder earned her B.S. in retailing from the University of Illinois in 1963 and her M. Ed. from the University of Florida in 1966. Upon moving to Walla Walla she received her counseling certification in 1986 from Walla Walla College.

She began her teaching career at N. Andrews Elem. School in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. Looking forward to the enthusiasm and creativity of the high school age student, she began at Wa-Hi in the fall of '86 and says she hasn't been disappointed.

Reading, gardening, sewing, playing the piano and flute all rank below collecting Hummels for the Wa-Hi counselor. Doors that are hinged on the wrong side invariably give Mrs. Schroeder embarrassing moments and "can be hard on the nose!" she exclaims.

The former elementary school teacher says she is pretty tolerant of most things and always tries to give students the benefit of the doubt, until they lie. At that point, she emphasizes, "A new side of me appears!"

Marcia Tomlin graduated from Woodrow Wilson High School in Tacoma, WA. in 1971 and moved on to WSU, where she received her B.A. in 1975. That fall she began teaching at Pioneer Jr. High. During the ten year period there she worked on her Masters degree, which she completed in 1981.

Mrs. Tomlin transferred to Wa-Hi in 1985 looking forward to dealing with more mature students and teaching more difficult subject matter.

Reading romance novels and the classics are this creative writing teacher's favorite pastimes. Spending time at her lake cabin in Montana, playing golf, and sampling gourmet foods also rank high on her list of things to do. In her spare time she also enjoys reading weekly magazines, working out in her aerobics class at the YMCA, and watching movies on the VCR.

She recalls her most embarrassing moment as the day in front of her class that she bet Bill Hayes $1 that the space shuttle hadn't exploded. When she discovered the truth, he insisted that she pay up in front of everyone.

Students who put their job on a higher priority than their high school education and students who procrastinate and blame her because she sticks to her deadlines are things that aggravate Mrs. Tomlin.

Tibbling, Richard Scott

Scott Tibbling graduated in 1974 from Eastern Oregon State College and began his teaching career in Roseburg, Oregon. In the fall of 1986 he came to Wa-Hi where he found, "a positive environment along with colleagues who were energetic and a student body who had class."

Power weight-training, bird hunting and baseball are Mr. Tibbling's major interests. He likes working out on his Everlasting heavy bag, pretending he's defeating Mike Tyson for the heavyweight title. Wa-Hi's assistant baseball coach has also been responsible for organizing baseball camps and clinics for youngsters.

Shaving off his moustache in front of the entire student body at the Homecoming assembly stands out in his mind as his most embarrassing moment. What aggravates Mr. Tibbling? "Students who use verbal put downs on themselves and others and students who fail to make the most of their abilities."

Gail See is the newest member of the physical education department. She graduated from Oroville High School in 1969 and from Cougar Country (WSU) in 1974. Her teaching career began in the Touchet School District. Mrs. See came to Wa-Hi this fall to take over Yvonne Britain's physical education classes.

She enjoys sailing, genealogy, and photography. Most of her time is taken up by her two children, but what spare time she has she likes to spend on the golf course.

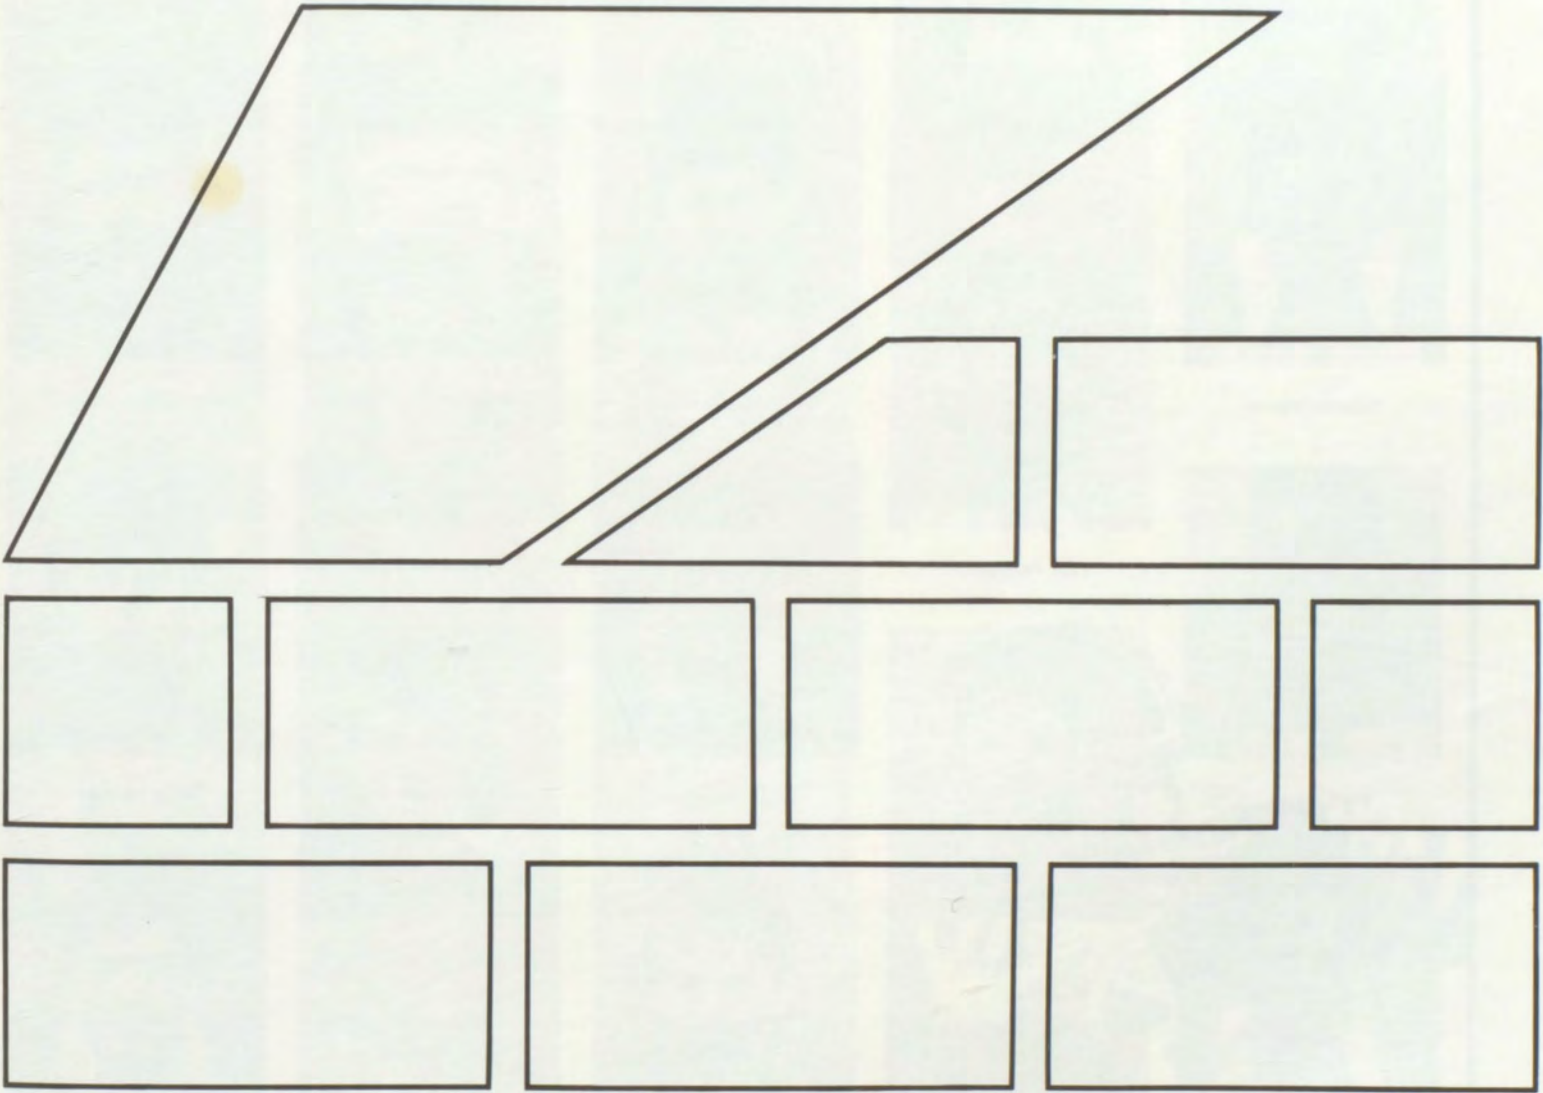

Students who don't use their time to their advantage and who don't tell the truth aggravate Mrs. See.

Wa-Hi has a rich tradition in football. Each year the team writes a new chapter and this year the 1987 chapter was an exciting one. The beginning of the season was very thrilling as the first five games were very close. All five were not decided until the last couple of minutes. Unfortunately, the scores all went against Wa-Hi; but the team never lost sight of its goal. Each week the Devils returned to practice dedicated to a winning effort and it began to pay off. The team then won three in a row by big margins. The last game found the team playing a playoff bound, powerhouse, Kennewick team. The Devils almost pulled off the upset of the year as they nearly knocked off the Lions.

The 1987 year was a year of leadership, friendship, and dedication. The captains John Sirmon, Joe Volek, Jason Hair, and Jason Linke were instrumental in holding the team together. The league recognized seven Blue Devils as All-Conference performers. David Bingham was a unanimous choice as both Running Back and Punter. Jason Hair was voted First Team Wide Receiver and Second Team Defensive Back. John Sirmon was selected Second Team Offensive Tackle and Defensive End. Jerry Marshall was selected First Team Defensive Lineman. Dennis Groom was selected second string Offensive Guard.

At the season-ending banquet, more Devils were selected for honors. Dennis Groom was selected as the Outstanding Lineman of 1987. Jerry Marshall received the Anderson Award as the Outstanding Defensive Player. David Bingham received the Fletcher Award as the Outstanding Offensive Player. Doug Cox was selected Linebacker of the Year by the coaches. Finally, the team elected Jason Linke as their Inspirational Award winner. 1987 has made a big mark in the hearts of all involved in the season. Football is a great team sport and the '87 Devils were a team cast in the mold of great teams of the past.

Cross Country

The 1987 Wa-Hi Cross Country team was a young team, consisting mostly of sophomores and juniors. "It was a rebuilding year, but the kids were very competitive," Cross Country Coach Jesse Briones stated. Wa-Hi's team achieved an overall GPA of 2.98 with five people above 3.5 and eight people between 3.0 and 3.4. The Cross Country team did an abundant amount of traveling this year with only one home meet. They went to such places as Lewiston, Connell, Richland, Eisenhower (Yakima) and others. The Junior Varsity Team finished the season with a 7-1 record, losing only to Big Nine champion Eisenhower. The Blue Devil Cross Country Team is a team to be reckoned with in the future.

After encountering one small, minor problem at the beginning of the inaugural season, the Wa-Hi girls' soccer team bounced back to end with a .500 record. Although an 11-0 loss to Richland, the defending league champion, placed another brick in our wall, we recovered to knock down that barrier of disbelief and record our first victory. So began the first year. The team went on a 2 game win streak then faced a scattered season.

Throughout the season, we were under the direction of our fearless leader, Floyd, no not Pink, but Floyd Bunt. At every game he wore his traditional dress as soccer is a game of tradition. Our supportive coach backed us through triumphs and defeats while we often heard the encouraging words "Nice try" and "Yes." "Our first year was fantastic. We all learned game by game, surpassing all expectations," replied coach Bunt.

Assisting Coach Bunt was Phil Bigley, whose views of the season were as such; "I enjoyed working with the athletic excellence at our school system." Thank you Phil.

The team consisted of seniors Dawn Michelson, Katy Millgard, Chris Jamison, Elsie Nelson and Heidi Gilliam; Juniors were Angie Zagelow, Angel Mason, Becky Royce, Sara Dietzman, Melissa Adams, Emily Hanson, Andrea Morris, and Sabrina Britton, manager; sophomores included Jennifer Bayne, Sara Dill and Laurelyn Mathers and lone freshman Nichole Smith.

Chris Jamison, Katy Millgard, and Angie Zagelow served as tri-captains.

At the season-ending banquet, the most improved award was given to Melissa Adams. The most inspirational was given to both Katy Millgard and Chris Millgard. The most valuable player award was given to Angie Zagelow.

Chris Jamison and Emily Hanson were selected to first and second All-Conference teams, respectively.

All in all, the season proved enjoyable to all participants involved. Wa-Hi can look forward to a successful future under the watchful eye of Mr. Floyd Bunt, Jr.

It was a tournament season for 1987-1988 Blue Devil Basketball. After a slow 0-2 league start, Wa-Hi rallied to beat Eisenhower 90-85 and then ran off 11 straight victories. The Blue Devils ended the regular season in second place behind Kamiakin and qualified for the ECL East Championships by beating Moses Lake 87-49. At the ECL Championships, the Blue Devils beat Mead 68-62, lost to Central Valley, but beat Moses Lake 54-48 to qualify for the State AAA Championships. At State, Wa-Hi made an early exit by losing to Auburn (3rd place finisher) and Juanita (5th place finisher). Nevertheless, the young Blue Devils gained valuable tournament experience.

Indeed it was a very young team this year with a starting line-up of only one senior, three juniors, and one sophomore. The seniors making major contributions to the Blue Devil success were Chris Notaras, Jim Lux, Greg Frandsen, and Stacy Shoun. Returning next year from the Varsity will be juniors Jason Filan, David Bingham, Ricky Wilson, Joe Gonzalez, Bryan Doyle, Aaron

Jim Lux falls for the ball.

Wolfe, and sophomores Gus Rojas and Kel Giard. The junior varsity finished their season 14-6, and the sophomores Gus Rojas and Kel Giard. The junior varsity finished their season 14-6, and the sophomore team also finished over 500. Consequently, the future looks promising for Blue Devil basketball in 1989.

Walla Walla had players honored as All Conference selections. They were juniors David Bingham and Jason Filan, and senior Chris Notaras (statistical leader this season).

From a coaching standpoint, it was a very fun year for me. I was very pleased for our seniors to be rewarded for 3 years of hard work by making it to the State Tourney. I'm hoping that those players returning next year will take the off-season seriously and work on improving their game.

To the Blue Devil fans, we really appreciated your support. You were the greatest!

Thanks,
Jim Thacker

The Wa-Hi Girls' Basketball team enjoyed a very fine year in the Big Nine Conference. After a four year absence from regional play the Lady Blue Devils returned to a new regional format that turned out to be a preview of the State Tournament. The top four teams from the Regional Tournament placed first through fourth in Seattle one week later. Although they were disappointed with not qualifying for State, the Lady Blue Devils could feel a certain measure of satisfaction with the knowledge that they had played against and with the best and fallen just one game short of their goal.

The year started very quickly for the Blue Devils. With many returning veterans and a new coach the Lady Blue Devils established themselves early as the team to beat in the Big Nine. They ran off a string of 10 straight victories, including road victories at Kenewick and Kamiakin before suffering a defeat at Davis to end the first half of the conference race. The Lady Blue Devils rebounded from their first defeat by running off six more victories, including another victory over Kamiakin. Going into the last weekend of the season all the Lady Blue Devils needed was a home victory against Davis to wrap up the conference title. The Lady Blue Devils came up short however suffering their worst shooting night of the season in falling to Davis and settling for second place in the Big Nine Conference. During the season the Lady Blue Devils, consistently ranked among the top 10 in the state, were ranked as high as fourth at one time.

The District and Regional Tournament were bittersweet for the Lady Blue Devils. They opened District action with a loss to the Kamiakin Braves after defeating them twice during the season, but bounced back with a win at Davis, a team that had defeated the Blue Devils twice during the season. Regional Tournament action required the Lady Blue Devils to win two of three games on the road in order to qualify for the State Tournament. After an opening loss at Lewis & Clark (the eventual Regional Champion) of the Greater Spokane League, the Lady Blue Devils again bounced back, this time with a win over Mead of the GSL. The stage was set for a rematch with a much improved Pasco team for a berth in the State Tournament. Despite a valiant effort by the Lady Blue Devils, Pasco prevailed and earned a spot in the State Tournament, eventually finishing fourth behind State Champion Shadle Park, runner-up Lewis & Clark, and third place finisher Kamiakin.

Girls' Varsity Cheerleaders-Front Row: Rebecca Rasmussen, Tiffany Singer, Amoreena Roberts. Top to bottom: Vanessa Delgado, Dawn Ferguson, and Annaliese Simpson.

The 1987-'88 Lady Blue Devils lose Seniors Tanya Eaton, Angie Bowman, Most Improved award winner Kyndra Montgomery, Captain Chris Jamison, Captain and Most Inspirational award winner Katy Millgard, Freethrow award winner Heather Ingalls, and Most Valuable award winner Sandy Gehlhausen.

For the second year Sandy Gehlhausen was named First Team All-Conference. Katy Millgard was named to the Second Team and Heather Ingalls and Junior Angie Zagelow were named Honorable Mention.

Sandy Gehlhausen ended her career as the number four all-time leading scorer in Wa-Hi history with 898 points and the number two all-time leading rebounder with 625. Heather Ingalls took over the number three position for freethrow % in a season with a mark of .724 and the number two position for the Highest Freethrow % in a career with a mark of .747.

1987 was to be a "building year" for Wa-Hi wrestling. Building years occur whenever there are no returning state veterans: whenever there is a lack of tournament tested experience to lead the charge into a new season. A building year occurs whenever there is a question concerning team leadership.

The building blocks were, we thought, a pretty well known quality. This was a team dominated in numbers by youth, enthusiasm, lack of varsity experience, but deep in commitment to wrestling. It was a team that needed to develop its wrestling skills, gain experience through competition, and grow physically, mentally, and emotionally. It was a team that needed leadership. Since each graduating class wishes to leave it's mark of identity, it was destined that the class of '88 distinguish itself through leadership of this talented, but young group.

How did they do it?

Look at the results!

It was evident that we were not experienced or ready for top flight competition when, early in the season we were trounced by MacHi, LaGrande, and then by Moses Lake all within a week. We worked harder, we got better, and (was there ever a doubt) we were proud of what we did. We lost because we were out-hustled or out-fought. This team, after losing four straight duals fought back to win six in a row: all against Big Nine foes. Not bad for a team with no returning "stars." If you watched their progress there was no doubt about their improvement.

Who was responsible?

Seniors, that's who! You did a fine job.

Who will forget who! At Davis or Lance at Kamiakin? Remember David at Richland and Rick against Kennewick when we needed a pin. Our practice room was a better place to be because of Blair, Todd, David, and Ed. Was there ever a question about who the captains (Dennis and Ruben) would be? Finally there was Cezer: Mr. Hustle you showed us the meaning of dedication, spirit, and the value of cheerful hard work. Seniors you can be proud.

What about the rest?

Reach for the stars. Choose a lofty goal and go after it. It was a great season for progress, we just started too far behind. We came a long way, but we didn't get there. You can't stop now. We have been good students of competition. We know what sets those apart who are winners. Knowing and doing are two different things. Each day that passes without some effort to improve is a day for our competition to gain. The record shows that we didn't finish on the top. We can't expect to do nothing and gain on the rest.

Our seniors did a fine job of laying the foundation which you may use to build upon. The top of the structure is for you to build.

The Walla Walla High School track machine rolled up a great season with a dual meet record of 7 wins and 3 losses. There were some outstanding performances this year with one person making First Team All Conference, John Sirmon in the discus. Two of the athletes had the privilege of going to the state track meet this year, Scott Lowder in the long jump and John Sirmon in the discus.

Tresa Oliver glides over the hurdle to defeat her Pasco opponent.

The Girls' Track Team this year was a very young team, with over half of the athletes coming from the freshman and sophomore classes. Despite the fact that the athletes were so inexperienced, there were some super performances. The upperclassmen provided experience, while underclassmen provided depth to the program. Dinah Morrison's school record in the triple jump and her personal best performance in the long jump, which qualified her for the state tournament, were just a couple of high points for the season.

The elusive goal of capturing a State Championship became reality for the members of the 1988 WA-HI Varsity Baseball team. A mixture of senior leadership, group dedication, and a commitment to achievement characterized the reasons they were able to lay claim to the top spot among the state's many high school baseball teams.

The 1988 season was a continuing process of goal setting, realizing those goals, and then setting new goals. Along these lines this club established the goal of reaching the district play-offs as its first priority. A league record of 11 wins and 5 losses enabled the Blue Devils to tie for second place the Big Nine Conference with the Wenatchee Panthers. As the second-seed in district tourney the WA-HI squad defeated Wenatchee in the opening round, lost to Kenniwick in the district championship, but qualified for the Region IV playoffs by defeating the Eisenhower Cadets in the last game of the tournament.

The next goal for the 1988 squad was to qualify for the state championship finals in Tacoma. A first place finish in Region IV was required for this goal to be realized. To this end the Blue Devils traveled to Spokane and defeated Mead High School, champions of the Greater Spokane League, and then, in a rematch with Kennewick, defeated the Lions to earn the Region IV championship and a trip to Tacoma.

The championship series saw the Blue Devils defeat Decatur High School, 9-4, in the first game. The championship game found Wa-Hi defeating defending state champions Juanita High School, 5-2, in rocking Cheney Stadium.

The 1988 season was the first time WA-HI qualified for state championship in baseball. All-conference awards went to Jeff Cochrane (pitcher), Troy Aichele (outfield), Jon Gradwohl (shortstop), Dave Bingham (outfield), and Joe Gonzalez (third base). Cochrane, Gradwohl, and Aichele were also selected to participate in the WIAA All-Star Baseball Series in Yakima.

This season can best be viewed as a tribute to a group of young people who had a dream. As one of their coaches, and as a person they have touched with their dream, I wish to thank this group for their impact, as athletes and people, upon myself, WA-HI, and our community.

Golf

The Wa-Hi boys' and girls' golf teams started the year with only one returning letterman, Heather Ingalls, among the 32 players on the teams. The season began with high scores but only a few early season wins. Through hard work and practice, the players improved their individual games and by the end of the season, the teams were competitive in the Big Nine matches.

The girls' team was led in scoring throughout the season by senior Heather Ingalls. Heather finished second at the mid-season All Big Nine match and was consistently one of the leading scorers in the conference. She participated in the Girls' State Tournament at Canyon Lakes in Kennewick.

Senior Kristian Lundh led the boys' team in scoring for every match this season. Kristian tied for first at the Big Nine meet and finished fourth at District. He was chosen as a member of the Big Nine All Conference First Team. The boys' team finished seventh in the Conference and sixth at District.

Assistant coaches Jim Thacker and Mike Patterson spent many hours helping the players develop their games. Their hard work and dedication is greatly appreciated.

Heather Ingalls and Kristian Lundh earned the Low Scoring Average awards for their play throughout the season. They were also voted by the players as captains of their respective teams.

GIRLS' TENNIS
Finishing the Big 9 league with a 5-3 record we tied for fourth at the district tournament.
Top finishers on team were Heidi Poffenroth and Chris Jamison who placed 4th in district.

They were also semi-finalists at the 32 team Inland Empire Tennis Tournament.
Graduating 3 time letterman seniors were Laura Leigh, Wendy Fauver, Jennifer Anderson, Mindy McCauley and Sara Philpot.

BOYS' TENNIS
Finishing the Big 9 League this year's Boys' team ended with a 6-2 record, behind Wenatchee 7-1, and Eisenhower 8-0. District tournament was a big success with Nate Campbell and Josh Reed placing 4th in doubles and David Muzzal finishing 4th in singles. Only the top 2 entrants advanced to state. Eisenhower won the AAA State Team Title and we lost to them during the season in a squeaker 4 matches to three.

Nate Campbell, Sadie Revels and Chris Meier are graduating seniors who have lettered three times.

Battle of the Bands

On March 17, Wa-Hi had more to celebrate than St. Patrick's Day, as the fourth annual Battle of the Bands exploded in the gym.

After hearing five bands perform, the judges decided on three finalists who vied for first place. "Smokin' Banana" walked away with the title, followed by "Cheater" in second place and "Fire and Ice" in third place.

The remaining two bands, the "Wavo Stud Puppies" and "Amphetabeat," rounded out the night of intense rock-n-roll sounds.

Judges for the Battle were Dirk Muse, Rory Herrera, Mr. Mac Bledsoe, and Kenny Melhus from Stereo Bird.

"Smokin' Banana" earned their first-place title with their electrifying performances of "Love Removal Machine," "Johnny B. Good," and "Peace of Mind", which was written and composed by the band. "Smokin' Banana" consists of Aubrey Narry, Kit Coleman, and Hideki Seto. Aubrey, the drummer and sometime vocalist for the band, attributed their success to "lots of practice."

The fourth annual Battle of the Bands was put on by the high-powered class of 1988. Profits amounted to approximately $1200.

Middle: Kit Kuhlumm leads the "Smokin' Bananas" to victory. Lower Left: Ruben jams with "Fire and Ice" into 3rd place. Middle: Nate and John of the "Wavo Stud Puppies" played some intense tunes. Lower Right: Cheater rocks on with 2nd place.

Phil Shivell, Barbra Weber "Shake down, break down, you're busted!"

Billy Jo and Tom Osborn "He promised wining and dining not punch and cookies!"

Every girls crazy 'bout a sharp dressed man.

The ASB sponsored the Spring Formal Dance, "Hot in the City," on April 29, 1988. The dance was held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the Wa-Hi gym. The band was a group from Seattle called "Sleeper."

Decorations were arranged and set up by the ASB Cabinet and members of the student body.

The pictures were taken by Dorian against a background resembling a night time city scene, complete with trees and shrubs from Green Valley Nursery.

Spring Play

On March 24, 25, 26, thirty people performed and helped backstage in this year's spring play, "Wild Oats."

About 300 people saw the play during its run. The money profited from the play will be used in the future for Wa-Hi plays, and better equipment.

Ms. Beth Poole, directed the play again this year, with assistant directors Cara Ely, Billie Jo Osborne, and Heather Herion.

One of the significant things about this play was that this was the west coast premier of "Wild Oats." Many audience members commented on how funny the play was and how many twists there were to the plot.

Bottom right -The three "Desperados", Billie Jo Osborne, Heather Herion, and Cara Ely, practice their menacing parts for the play.

Military Review

Mrs. Evelyn Gau, 24 year member of the Walla Walla School Board, served as reviewing officer for this year's Sixty-ninth Annual Review, May 13, 1988. Several awards and medals were presented during the ceremony on the Wa-Hi campus.

FAREWELL

Charles Patterson began teaching at Wa-Hi in 1961 and has been involved in every aspect of the English department from Dept. Chair to sophomore English, which includes drama, American literature, humanities, and Man & Nature, as well as serving on district wide committees.

Mr. Patterson graduated from Wa-Hi in 1951, from EWU in '55, and earned an MA from the University of Washington. He has served the community and state in education for 31 years.

Roberta 'Bobbi' Hunt began work as a Wa-Hi library technician in 1981. She has worked in various capacities of the library, however, since 1966.

Mrs. Hunt graduated from Troy High School in Troy, Montana, and attended Northeastern Teachers College in Kirksville, Missouri. She has been with the Walla Walla School District for 22 years and four months.

Jean Frank was the attendance secretary at Wa-Hi from 1970-1972 and returned to the same position in 1982 until the present. A Walla Walla native, she graduated from Green Park and Walla Walla High School.

Mrs. Frank has been with the District for 18 years and intends to retire to the enjoyment of a summer home in Coeur d'Alene, grandchildren, and learning to play golf.

Shelley Froese came to Wa-Hi in the fall of 1986 from Sharpstein. She graduated from Wa-Hi in 1975 and from EWU in 1979, when she began teaching.

Mrs. Froese is moving to Prospect Point Elementary in the Special Services department.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate for Wa-Hi's graduating class of '88 was held Sunday, May 22, at 7:30 p.m. at Cordiner Hall on the Whitman Campus.

On Friday June 3, 1988, 371 seniors graduated on the Wa-Hi campus at 7:30 p.m.

The invocation, delivered by Rev. Howard E. Baker, Sr. Pastor, First Church of God, followed the National Anthem and Pomp and Circumstance performed by the Wa-Hi Band.

"Be All We Can Be" was the students' commencement address. Speakers were introduced by Janet Lynne Schroeder, Mistress of Ceremonies. Speakers for graduation were Matthew Paul Mulkerin, "The Graduation Story", Michael Joseph Sparkes, "The Jungle," John Herald Wilson, "Tests," Christopher James Meier, "Opportunities," and Kay Lynn Stevens, "Choices."

Awards were presented by Principal Richard P. Neher. Diplomas were given by Mr. David Carey, School Board President, and Dr. Dennis A. Ray, Superintendent.

Following the awards, Benediction was presented by the Rev. Keith Krebs, Pastor, Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Graduation Awards

At the Ninety-sixth Annual Commencement, awards and trophies were presented by Principal Richard P. Neher. Graduation speakers (listed on page 17) were given commencement speaker trophies.

The Florence McGovern Scholastic Award was received by Anthony Taylor.

The Marshall Alexander Speech/Drama Trophy was shared by Troy Beckel and Janelle Ball.

Joy Knowles received the Legislative Assembly Award, while the Lawrence Jacky Award was given to Jan Schroeder.

Troy Aichele received the Brown Trophy and the Lehnen Trophy was awarded to Chris Jamison.

Arion Foundation Awards were received by Anthony Taylor, band; Joy Knowles, choir; and Lisa Pinza, orchestra.

Graduates endure the spring rains which did not dampen the commencement spirit, and did not force the Class of '88 indoors. Shelley Gregerson and Lynne Roediger lead the graduates in the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" across the Yellowhawk. Choir members perform a medley: "Lean on Me" and "Stand by Me" with vocalists Cara Ely, Joe Kirschner, and Bonnie Lafferty.

Friends and family who gathered at the commencement exercise on the Wa-Hi campus were kept dry by a sea of colorful umbrellas, blankets, and plastic. Senior speakers Matt Mulkerin, Mike Sparkes, John Wilson, and class president B.J. Bright lived on the edge from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., under the edge of the roof and large drops of water, that is!!

Senior Party

The annual Senior Party, held at Whitman College Sherwood Center, began at 10 p.m. on Friday after the graduation ceremonies and ended on Saturday at 3 a.m.

Many activities, with several thousand dollars worth of prizes being awarded, went on all night. The Senior Party, sponsored by the parents of graduating seniors, was organized this year by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hobkirk and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens. The Senior Party was planned to provide seniors with a fun and memorable evening.
